Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject English - Pedagogy, Didactics, Literature Studies, grade: 1,0, University of Vienna (Institut für Anglistik & Amerikanistik), course: Language Teaching: Topic-related Course - Literature and ELT, language: English, abstract: Literature is often more interesting and motivating than the texts found in course books.

For me this means that learners are given the opportunity to find out or develop their personal interests by reading a variety of different novels, poems or plays (including various themes, suspense, creative language use etc.).

The following work plan is intended for a 5th form of grammar school and consists of four interconnected lessons revolving around the novel Charlie and the Chocolate Factory.
