Multisensory Strategies: Lessons and Classroom Management Techniques to Reach and Teach All Learners (Multisensory Strategies and Explicit Structures to Reach and Teach All) Edgar McIntosh, Marilu Peck

Peck and McIntosh share a rich teaching approach that maximizes student learning and facilitates classroom management: multisensory instruction. By teaching students how to process visual, auditory, and tactile-kinesthetic sensory input, they help students manage themselves and their behavior. By designing lessons that engage students' senses, they ensure that all students will connect to the content. Using this two-pronged approach, the authors show how to create a supportive classroom environment and design effective lessons. The result is a dynamic classroom in which learning soars.
